

Maryland

State requirements	Food Protection Manager certification is voluntary statewide, but several counties have CFPM requirements (see below)	ServSafe, NRFSP, and Prometric exams approved
State Health Department	Department of Health and Mental Hygiene Community Health Administration 201 West Preston Street, 3rd Floor Baltimore, Maryland 21201 Tel (410) 767-5300 http://www.cha.state.md.us/ofpchs/fc/index.html
Baltimore City (410) 396-4398	Required- each facility must have one Certified Food Protection Manager	Hours of instruction 16, online course not approved, 8hr recertification every 3 years
Prince George County (301)-883-7690	Required –Must have a Certified Food Protection Manager on premise during hours of operation	Hours of instruction 16, online course not approved, 8hr recertification every 3 years
Montgomery County (240) 777-1000	Required –Must have a Certified Food Protection Manager on premise during hours of operation	Hours of instruction 16, online course not approved, 8hr recertification every 3 years
Howard County (410)-313-1911	No person may operate a food establishment without a food handling license issued by the county health department. A separate license is required for each food establishment. (Howard County Code, Sec. 12.107(b)) Food establishments include food service facilities and food processing plants.	Hours of instruction 16, online course not approved, 8hr recertification every 3 years
Baltimore County, (410)-887-4065	Required- each facility must have one Certified Food Protection Manager	Hours of instruction 16, online course not approved, 8hr recertification every 3 years

Updated 5/01/09 Check with your local health department for detailed requirements