

North Carolina

State requirements	As of 9/1/2012 a full time manager must have completed the food service sanitation program approved by the department within the past 3 years. At least one certified manager must be present at all hours of operation. If during inspection there isn't a certified manager the establishment will lose 2 points. Certification is required at state level.	ServSafe, NRFSP, and Prometric print and online-exams approved with registered proctor
Department of Health and Human Resources Phone: 919-707-5854 Fax: 919-845-3972	Environmental Health Section 1632 Mail Service Center Raleigh, NC 27699-1632 http://ehs.ncpublichealth.com/staff.htm	No specific training hours and managers must pass an approved exam. Recertification every 5 years
Appalachia County	At least one certified manager must be present at all hours of operation. If during inspection there isn't a certified manager the establishment will lose 2 points.	Certification courses must be taught by a local environmental health specialist or a food and nutrition health specialist, registered ServSafe instructor or equivalent Recertification every 5 years
Cumberland County	At least one certified manager must be present at all hours of operation. If during inspection there isn't a certified manager the establishment will lose 2 points.	Certification courses must be taught by a local environmental health specialist or a food and nutrition health specialist, registered ServSafe instructor or equivalent Recertification every 5 years
Nash County	At least one certified manager must be present at all hours of operation. If during inspection there isn't a certified manager the establishment will lose 2 points.	Certification courses must be taught by a local environmental health specialist or a food and nutrition health specialist, registered ServSafe instructor or equivalent Recertification every 5 years
Guilford County (Greensboro)	At least one certified manager must be present at all hours of operation. If during inspection there isn't a certified manager the establishment will lose 2 points.	Certification courses must be taught by a local environmental health specialist or a food and nutrition health specialist, registered ServSafe instructor or equivalent Recertification every 5 years
Mecklenburg County	At least one certified manager must be present at all hours of operation. If during inspection there isn't a certified manager the establishment will lose 2 points.	Certification courses must be taught by a local environmental health specialist or a food and nutrition health specialist, registered ServSafe instructor or equivalent Recertification every 5 years

Updated 10/01/2012 Check with your local health department for detailed requirements